The History Museum Offers Tours of the 1930s Polish Worker's Home

South Bend, IN-- A change is coming to The History Museum's Worker's Home.

After several years of being interpreted as the residence of a 1930s Polish family, the house will be closing after September 5 as the museum begins preparations for its new iteration, which will be launched in November.

Special guided tours of the 1930s Polish Worker's Home (called "Dom Robotnika") will be offered at 3 p.m. August 28 – September 1. The tours are free with a museum admission.

An open house will take place from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Monday, September 4. On that day, self-guided tours of the house are complimentary. Regular admission will apply for visits to other areas of The History Museum.

For information, call The History Museum at (574) 235-9664 or visit www.historymuseumSB.org
